DETAILS

SYNOPSIS

Information requested by J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel, President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy, relative to bus travel between Dallas and Mexico City, D. F., attached herewith.

DETAILS OF INVESTIGATION

This case originated with a letter dated April 3, 1964, to Chief, U. S. Secret Service, from Mr. J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel, President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy. Mr. Rankin asked for information relative to bus travel between Dallas, Texas, and Mexico City, D. F., on November 22, 1963. This letter was transmitted to this office with Chief's O/M dated April 7, 1964, and received in this office on April 13, 1964, which O/M requested the information be gathered and forwarded to Chief's Office at earliest practicable date.

Other Investigations

On April 14, 1964, interviewed Mr. McFadden, Terminal Manager, Greyhound Bus Depot, Dallas, Texas. Mr. McFadden furnished the information requested in the letter by Mr. J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel. (NOTE: Below are two mileage tables - (1) Dallas to Texas points of entry into Mexico; (2) Dallas to Mexico City via different routes to Mexico City.)

(1) Dallas, Texas to Texas points of entry into Mexico:

Dallas to Laredo	-	427 miles
Dallas to Eagle Pass	-	409 miles
Dallas to Del Rio	-	420 miles
Dallas to Brownsville	-	532 miles

(2) Dallas, Texas to Mexico City via different routes:

Dallas, Texas to Mexico City via Laredo	- 1174 miles
Dallas, Texas to Mexico City via Brownsville	- 1162 miles
Dallas, Texas to Mexico City via Eagle Pass	- 1241 miles
Dallas, Texas to Mexico City via Del Rio	- 1290 miles

(approximately)

The information requested by Mr. J. Lee Harkin has been ascertained as follows:

(1) How would a person go from Dallas

(a) by bus to the closest points on the Mexican border, and to Mexico City?

The Greyhound Bus Lines has a regular run to Laredo, Texas, which is the border crossing point most used by traffic from the Dallas area. The schedule of this run is attached (Schedule No. 1). This trip from Laredo would proceed from Dallas through Waco, Austin, San Antonio, and then directly to Laredo.

The Continental Bus Lines also has a scheduled trip to Laredo, however, this bus does not go to San Antonio and Laredo by a direct route.

The bus routes are marked on Map 1(a) - Greyhound Bus Lines in blue; and Trailways Bus Lines in red.

The main crossing points on the Mexican border are at Del Rio, Eagle Pass, Laredo, and Brownsville, Texas. The Greyhound Bus runs directly to Laredo, however, it does not run to Del Rio, Brownsville, or Eagle Pass.

To obtain these other stations, one must change buses at San Antonio for Del Rio; at San Antonio for Brownsville; and connect with Wintergarden Bus Lines at Dilley, Texas. The schedules for buses connecting Del Rio, Brownsville, and Eagle Pass, specifically the Trailways Bus Lines, the Painter Bus Lines, and the Wintergarden Bus Lines are attached.

These bus routes are also marked on Map 1(a) - the Painter Bus Lines in green; and the Wintergarden Bus Lines in yellow.

There were no American bus lines operating in the country of Mexico on November 22, 1963. Once at the border, the traveler would be forced to change to one of three bus lines, depending upon his location at the border. If the individual was at Laredo, he would most probably take the Transportes Del Norte Bus Lines, which route is marked in brown on Map 1(c). This Bus Line connects with Greyhound at the Greyhound Terminal, Laredo, Texas. If arriving at Brownsville, he would probably take the Autobuses Blancos Flecha Roja, which is marked in blue on Map 1(c). If the individual arrived at Del Rio or Eagle Pass, he would probably take the Autobuses Anahuac, which is marked in red on Map 1(c).

The best route by bus to Mexico City would, therefore, be by Greyhound Bus from Dallas to Laredo, and then continue by the Transportes Del Norte Bus Lines to Mexico City.

- (1) How would a person go from Dallas
(b) by hitchhiking to the closest points on the Mexican border, and to Mexico City?

An individual hitchhiking to the Mexican border and to Mexico City would most probably travel by the Dallas-Waco-Austin-San Antonio-Laredo route. This route would certainly be the most heavily travelled route to the Mexican border. This route is sketched on Map 1(b) which is attached. There are also two alternate routes - first alternate sketched in yellow on Map 1(b) and second alternate sketched in green on Map 1(b).

The route a person will probably travel while hitchhiking from the border to Mexico City is marked in red on Map 1(d). The Mexican Tourist Bureau, Dallas, Texas, advises this is the most heavily travelled route to Mexico City, and therefore, this route should afford more chances of getting a ride. First alternate route from the border near Brownsville, Texas, and McAllen, Texas, to Mexico City is marked in blue; second alternate route from Del Rio and Eagle Pass is marked in a combination blue and red line - all on Map 1(d).

- (2) What was the bus fare on November 22, 1963, from Dallas to the closest points on the Mexican border, and to Mexico City?

Below are bus fares from Dallas to points on the Mexican border; fares from these points to Mexico City; and total fares from Dallas to Mexico City:

			TOTAL
Dallas to Laredo	-$12.80	Laredo to Mexico City	-$10.00	$22.80
Dallas to Brownsville	- 16.00	Brownsville to Mexico City	- 8.75	24.75
Dallas to Eagle Pass	- 12.40	Eagle Pass to Mexico City	- 7.00	19.40
Dallas to Del Rio	- 11.90

All of the above are one-way fares for November 22, 1963. Tickets on the Mexican lines can be purchased in U. S. Bus Terminals. The fares quoted in column 2 above are those of the Transportes Del Norte Bus Lines.

- (3) What were the bus schedules on November 22, 1963, from Dallas to the closest points on the Mexican border, and to Mexico City?

Bus schedules of the Greyhound Bus Lines, Continental Trailways Bus Lines, Winter Garden Bus Lines, Painter Bus Lines, Transportes Del Norte Bus Lines, Autobuses Blancos Flecha Roja, and Autobuses Anahuac S. A., are attached.

In addition, Mr. Rankin requested maps of Dallas and Texas, showing hitchhiking routes from Oak Cliff to nearby points on the Mexican border, and locating the bus terminal in Dallas from which buses departed for Mexico.

The hitchhiking route from Dallas to the Mexican border is sketched on Map 1(b) as mentioned above. Map 4(a) which is attached, indicates bus terminals in Dallas, Texas, from which buses would depart for Mexico City. This map also indicates routes taken by Greyhound Bus Lines and Continental Trailways Bus Lines through the city to the highways leading to border areas. Trailways Bus Lines route is sketched in yellow and Greyhound Bus Lines route is sketched in blue. This map also indicates a hitchhiking route to the border. This route is sketched in brown.

Map 4(b) is an inset map of the downtown area of Dallas, showing the location of the Continental Trailways Bus Terminal and the Greyhound Bus Terminal.

NOTE: During the period in question, all buses traveling to the Mexican Border would stop between terminals to pick up passengers, both in cities and on the open highway. This stop would be contingent on traffic regulations and safety procedures. The passengers could then purchase their ticket on the bus.

DISPOSITION

This phase of the investigation is closed with this M/R.

...ation or independence from the old, the mainland. It

Today "G. T. T." might stand for "Going to Texas" if you were to survey the vacation preferences of millions of Americans. For as a vacation wonderland Texas is manifestly different—truly America's Fun-tier.

The Texas tapestry is so wondrously variegated that it really can't be captured. While cowboys still ply their century-old calling in much the same way as their forefathers, scientists at the Manned Spacecraft Center near Houston are blazing trails toward the moon and stars.

There is scarcely a topographic attraction that Texas does not provide: mountains, mesas, valleys, plains, streams, forests, beaches, lakes, deserts.

And Texas has more cities with populations over 50,000 than any other are—22 of them. Two metropolitan areas have million-plus populations. For the most part they are spanking new, sparkling clean, smog-free. Some, like San Antonio, simply effuse the charm of centuries of New World Spanish heritage. All vie for leadership in areas of culture, entertainment and modern living.

A vacation in America's Fun-tier can be a many-splendored thing. There's really a corner of the state that does not have its own unique attraction. A random harvest of things-to-do and things to see:

Boating, bathing, basking, hunting (deer, dove, quail, turkey, javelina), fishing (deep sea, lake or stream), hiking, sand dune jeeping, camping (no fewer than 38 state parks are open to campers), risk-free spelunking (several caves suit visitors), and mountain climbing—take your choice of 15 mountain peaks.

Wish to know more? Need help in planning a Fun-tier vacation? The Travel Information Division of the Texas Highway Department offers full informational services. Write us in Austin.

If it we're in a real hurry just leave a "G. T. T." note for the milkman to come right ahead. Stop at one of the seven eager-to-serve Highway Department Tourist Bureaus at principal Texas entry points. Friendly, professional counselors will help you plan your visit, free. Addresses on the front of this map.

If it is your good fortune to be a resident of Texas you already know the ease and comfort of getting anywhere in the state on the ultra-modern 65,000-mile Texas highway system, the nation's largest. But chances are there's more to America's Fun-tier than you suspect. Let us help you have a Fun-tastic vacation, too!

White cowboys still ply their century-old calling in much the same way. Cowboys, scientists at the Manned Spacecraft Center of NASA look toward the moon and stars.

Starkly, severely a topographic attraction that Texas does not have. Texas valleys, plains, streams, forests, beaches, lakes, deserts, have more cities with populations over 50,000 than any other state. The metropolitan areas have million-plus populations. They are spending new, sparkling clean money. They are spending. They are the heart of science and technology. They are the heart of the future.

There are many splendid things in Texas that does not have its own name. There are many things to do and things to see.

Mexico is a perpetual invitation to become acquainted with an extraordinary world in which the splendor of the native heritage, and colonial past blend with the comforts and refinements of modern life. Mexico has preserved its great artistic treasures and traditions at the same time that it has kept in step with contemporary progress.

As famous as its pyramids and colonial-style cathedrals and churches are its de luxe hotels, and elegant typical restaurants where the gourmet may savor the delicacies of Mexico as well as those common to international cuisine. With its varied recreational and relaxing areas, its easy communications, the order and beauty of its cities among which the capital figures as among the largest handsomest and most colorful of the world, Mexico appeals to visitors of every taste.

Mexico wears its festival costumes daily to welcome its friends from abroad. Know this friendly land, the land of sun, of clear, blue skies, of immortal art and dynamic progress. It waits to offer you a perfect, unforgettable voyage.

MEXICO CITY-PUEBLA FREEWAY

Know the splendid natural beauty of Mexico first hand, traveling through this land of eternal Spring and marvelous panoramas over its wide-flung highway system.

These modern, paved arteries, many of them equal to the finest in the world, inter-connect with practically every part of the Republic. He who travels them discovers a constantly changing background of tropical jungles, majestic mountains, snow-capped volcanoes, vast rivers, limpid lakes and beautiful, romantic cities affording every type of comfortable lodging, wholesome food, motorist services, etc.

Tour Mexico by car and enjoy to their fullest the unsurpassed climate, incomparable color, typical fiestas, artistic treasures, modern facilities and the traditional hospitality and courtesy of the people.

BEISARIO DOMINGUEZ BRIDGE, CHIAPAS

DOCKS VERACRUZ

The highways of Mexico —beautiful, modern, well constructed and carefully maintained— provide the motorist every assurance of safety.

The Mexican government operates an efficient highway patrol service, which covers practically the entire country. Constantly vigilant, these well-equipped units, manned by expert, bi-lingual crews, offer the traveler every kind of information and mechanical aid.
